Department of Labor launches new labor market information website

TOPEKA – The Kansas Department of Labor launched an enhanced labor market information website at <http://www.dol.ks.gov/LMIS/about.html> today with new features and improved navigation. The site provides a variety of labor market information including unemployment statistics, job reports and wage data.

"The new labor market information website is a one-stop shop for anyone looking for state or local labor market information," said Jim Garner, Secretary of Labor.

Enhancements to the labor market information website include:

- Improved navigation – Information is organized by customer group to make it easier to find specific data.
- Improved look and feel – New page layouts and graphics improve the user experience.
- New information and features – New features on the Web site include news and notices on the home page, an FAQ page, printer-friendly pages and more.

Additional features will be added to the site in coming months.

The enhanced labor market information website is part of the ongoing effort at the Department of Labor to improve customer service for all Kansans.
