Kansas Department of Labor offers 35th annual Workers Compensation Seminar

Seminar offers the most reliable workers compensation information for professionals in Kansas

TOPEKA — The annual Kansas Department of Labor Workers Compensation Seminar is set for Sept. 1-2 at the Overland Park Convention Center. The two-day seminar will feature 34 experts presenting more than 20 classes on topics ranging from workers compensation basics to in-depth discussions of current issues.

Presenters include lawyers and physicians with extensive experience in the workers compensation field, including Assistant Attorney General Marty Snyder and Dr. J. Mark Melhorn. In addition to the classes and presentations, the seminar offers the opportunity for networking with other professionals in the field, including a golf tournament at the Sycamore Ridge Golf Course in Spring Hill Aug. 31. Interested golfers can register online at <http://www.dol.ks.gov/wc/events.html> or register on site the day of the tournament starting at 12 p.m. Shotgun start is at 1 p.m. All proceeds go to the United Way.

Participants will also have an opportunity to view exhibits highlighting the latest in applicable technology, products and services. The early two-day registration rate of $120 is available through August 17. After that date, the seminar registration rate is $140. Single-day registration also is available at $80. Continuing education credits are offered.
